

9th Swiss Movement Disorders Symposium

© LucerneTourismus

Dear Movement Disorders Enthusiast,

There is indeed a meeting that you shouldn't miss this year - it is the 9th Swiss Movement Disorders Symposium to be held in Lucerne, August 31st to September 1st, 2017.

As usual, it starts with a highlight, i.e. the video session on Thursday evening, followed by exceptional lectures on Friday - many of them devoted to Parkinson's disease and the celebration of the 200th anniversary of James Parkinson's landmark publication „An Essay on the Shaking Palsy“ published in 1817. We are proud and delighted that the most influential and respected authorities in the field agreed to come to Lucerne, so don't miss out on the chance to enjoy talks by Andrew Lees, Soledad Esposito, Stéphane Lehéricy, Friedhelm Hummel, Alim Benabid, Angelo Antonini and Joaquim Ferreira.

As a new event, we dedicated one teaching session to the “Swiss Young Neurologists”, the lectures given by Georg Kägi und Joseph-André Ghika and not to be missed either!

We will also take the time to honor the work of Hans-Peter Ludin for patients with Parkinson's disease in Switzerland and we will hear what the next generation of researchers in Switzerland has contributed to the literature during the last year.

We are very much looking forward to meeting you in Lucerne!

Claudio Bassetti, François Vingerhoets, Daniel Waldvogel
Council of the Foundation for Research in Parkinson and Movement Disorders

Christian Lüscher, Georg Kägi and Claudio Pollo
