Dear Movement Disorders Enthusiast,

On November 2, 2025, we lost Mark Hallett.

Mark's studies and insights into the physiology of the motor system and the pathophysiology of movement disorders were groundbreaking. His ability to share and communicate his knowledge was absolutely unique—whenever you listened to one of his lectures, you suddenly understood subjects that may previously have seemed elusive. Mark's capacity to inspire through his curiosity and disciplined logical thinking was influential around the globe, as countless grateful fellows can attest.

At this year's symposium, we have the opportunity to celebrate Mark's life and achievements. We do so with the help of some of the world's leading experts, who will highlight key fields of Mark's interests: Anthony Lang (Toronto) will give an overview of dystonia; Jon Stone (Edinburgh) will help us understand the growing insights into functional neurological disorders; John Rothwell (London) will demonstrate how electrophysiology uncovers the physiology and pathophysiology of the motor system; and Selma Aybek (Fribourg) will address the importance of mentoring—a subject particularly close to Mark's heart.

Don't miss this unique opportunity to hear from outstanding leaders in their fields while honoring the memory of Mark Hallett.
